Per my VM, Bret, I've included the following statement for your review....

Following the closure of the San Juan River by Navajo Nation, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Region 9 (EPA) has worked with the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) to provide alternative agricultural and livestock water supplies for Navajo Nation community members.

Water distributed by EPA and BIA was provided by the Bloomfield Utility Department, the municipal water utility company for the City of Bloomfield, N.M.

To distribute water to community members, a series of water tanks were deployed in various locations on Navajo Nation. These tanks were sourced from water distribution companies in Colorado and New Mexico.

The City of Bloomfield's water was unaffected by the Gold King Mine release.

At the request of Navajo Nation, EPA, starting tomorrow, will source all alternative water from permitted water sources on Navajo Nation.
